

Occupational Health and Safety Policy

Basic Idea

We will actively engage in activities for occupational health and safety to secure our workplace safety, to enhance and maintain workers' physical and mental health, and to manage occupational health and safety risks to improve sound occupational health and safety.

Guidelines for action

[Preventive measures]

We will identify occupational health and safety risks, assess the sources of risk, plan the necessary management, eliminate the sources of risk, and strive to prevent the risks and continuously improve it to prevent workers from injuries, and physical and mental illnesses, associated with our business activities.

[Compliance with laws and regulations]

We will comply with laws, regulations and the other requirements agreed by us related to occupational health and safety, and set and manage our own management standards.

[Continuous Improvement]

We will continuously improve our management and performance to achieve occupational health and safety objectives, and periodically review the suitability, appropriateness, and effectiveness of our occupational health and safety activities.

[Consultation and Participation]

We will strive to raise all workers' awareness of occupational health and safety by actively providing training and resources as well as facilitating communication (consultation and participation) among all workers for occupational health and safety.

[Publication of policy]

The Occupational Health and Safety Policy shall be made known to all of our employees and publicly disclosed outside as needed.
